CHILD SUPPORT STANDARDS CHART

prepared by
NEW YORK STATE OFFICE OF TEMPORARY AND DISABILITY ASSISTANCE
DIVISION OF CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT

This Child Support Standards Chart can be used to determine an approximate annual child support obligation. For a detailed, legal explanation of all factors used by the court in calculating a child support obligation, you should consult section 413 of the Family Court Act. Please note that the calculations provided in the stated chart intervals are based upon the lower bound of the interval. For example, when calculating the obligation for the range of income at $25,600 to $25,699, the chart uses the amount of $25,600 to determine the obligation amount. For a precise calculation of the obligation at an income level other than the lower bound, use the percentages listed below to perform the calculation on the worksheet located on page 22.

The 2015 poverty income guideline amount for a single person as reported by the United States Department of Health and Human Services is $11,770 and the 2015 self-support reserve is $15,890.

Note: Where the total income of both parents exceeds the combined parental income amount of $141,000 the law permits, but does not require, the use of the child support percentages in calculating the child support obligation on the income above $141,000.

Child Support Percentages

One Child	17%
Two Children	25%
Three Children	29%
Four Children	31%

BASIC CHILD SUPPORT GUIDELINES WORKSHEET 3/6/2015

The following calculations refer to noncustodial parents only:

1 Annual Income*	1
2 Approximate Basic Child Support Obligation 	2
3 Subtract line 2 from line 1.	3

a. If line 3 is greater than or equal to $15,890 (the 2015 self-support reserve) enter the line 2 amount on line 7 below. No further calculations are necessary.

b. If line 3 is less than $15,890 (the 2015 self-support reserve) but greater than or equal to $11,770 (the 2015 poverty income guideline amount for a single person), proceed to step 4.

c. If line 3 is less than $11,770 (the 2015 poverty income guideline amount for a single person), enter $300 on line 7 below. No further calculations are necessary.

4 Annual Income (copy from line 1)	4
5 Self-Support Reserve	5	$ 15,890
6 Subtract line 5 from line 4	6

Enter on line 7 below the greater of $600 or the amount on line 6

7 APPROXIMATE BASIC CHILD SUPPORT OBLIGATION 	7

* See Family Court Act § 413 (1)(b)(5) for the complete definition of "income" under the Child Support Guidelines. Income includes gross total income as should have been or should be reported in the most recent federal income tax return. To the extent not already included in gross income, add investment income (minus the sums expended in connection with such investment), voluntarily deferred income or compensation and income received from the following sources: workers' compensation, disability benefits, unemployment insurance benefits, social security benefits, veterans benefits, pensions and retirement benefits, fellowships and stipends, and annuity payments. Income deductions include certain unreimbursed employee business expenses, except to the extent these allowances reduce personal expenditures, certain alimony or maintenance or child support actually paid to a spouse or on behalf of a child not a party to the instant action, public assistance, supplemental security income, New York City or Yonkers income or earnings taxes actually paid, and Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) taxes actually paid.

 The Basic Child Support Obligation is defined by Family Court Act § 413 (1)(b)(1). The non-custodial parent's portion of the Basic Child Support Obligation includes the amount resulting from multiplying the noncustodial parent's income by the appropriate child support percentage, then adding the noncustodial parent's share of cash medical support obligations, educational, and child care expenses where appropriate.

NOTE: Where the combined parental income exceeds $141,000 the law permits, but does not require, the use of the child support percentages in calculating the child support obligation on the income above $141,000.
