I. PURPOSE

This is to advise you of a new Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities (OMRDD) program called the Collocated Day Treatment Program.

II. BACKGROUND

Effective April 1992, OMRDD filed with the Department of State a set of Emergency/Proposed Amendments to 14 NYCRR Part 690. These amendments allow OMRDD to certify and Medical Assistance (MA) to reimburse day treatment programs that are collocated with OMRDD certified day training, sheltered employment or workshop programs. The final regulations were filed with the Secretary of State with an effective date of June 24, 1992.

The program provides non-vocational, clinical services to persons currently attending full-time day training or sheltered employment programs.

III. PROGRAM

The collocated day treatment program is not free-standing. The program must be physically located within the same building as the certified day training or sheltered workshop program, and a separate operating certificate must be issued for day treatment. The program is to be available to participants for at least ninety minutes per day on a regular basis.

In addition, the program should be designed and targeted to serve pre-voc/vocational program participants whose level of productivity in the workshop setting averages 20 percent or less of the norm. The reasons for the person's low productivity can be varied. The availability of the collocated day treatment option may minimize the risks of such persons losing their placement and needing to be placed in a more restrictive full-time day treatment program. The intent of the collocated day treatment program is to focus on those persons who could have their workshop participation sustained and/or enhanced through the day treatment services.

IV. PARTICIPANT ELIGIBILITY

Program participants must meet the day treatment program eligibility requirements, including diagnosis of a developmental disability, and a capacity to benefit from an active treatment program as defined in 14 NYCRR Section 690.5.

V. MEDICAID REIMBURSED TRANSPORTATION TO DAY TREATMENT

Transportation to and from the collocated day treatment site will be reimbursed through Medicaid, except when:

- (1) The person is not receiving or eligible to receive MA services; or
- (2) When the individual travels to the site where collocated day treatment is located (i.e., in the same building as the sheltered workshop), but does not receive day treatment services.

It is the responsibility of the collocated day treatment provider to notify social services districts of participant begin and end dates for participation in the collocated day treatment program as well as the participant MA transportation needs.

Note: Transportation will be allowed regardless of what point in the day the person actually receives the unit of service from the collocated day treatment program.

VI. SOCIAL SERVICE FISCAL IMPACT

Persons not otherwise eligible for State charges or overburden funding who are admitted to collocated day treatment programs may be qualified under the provisions of the Overburden legislation, (Section 53-i of the State Finance Law Human Services Overburden) by virtue of their meeting the definition of "chronic client" receiving "continuing treatment" for at least 45 half days per quarter. In the case of new programs, collocated program participants will be identified through the MMIS claims process as Overburden eligible and appear on the list by the second quarter after service begins.
