SIX-MONTH REPORTING RULES: As a food stamp household under the “Six-Month Reporting” rules, you are only required to report changes at the time of your next recertification, except for the following three situations:

1. If your household’s gross monthly income exceeds 130% of the poverty level, you MUST report this monthly amount to your social services district by telephone, in writing, or in person within 10 days after the end of the calendar month in which you exceed the 130% level. Gross income is the amount of income before taxes and other deductions are taken out, not the amount you receive when you cash your check. We must use the gross income in figuring your eligibility for food stamp benefits. Your worker will explain what 130% of the poverty level means for a family of your size. Any other kind of income that you receive besides earnings must be added to your gross earned income to know if you are over 130% of the poverty level. Examples of other sources of income that count include child support you receive, Unemployment Insurance, Temporary Assistance (TA) payments, Workers Compensation, Social Security Benefits, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and private disability payments.

If you fail to report that your gross income is above 130% of the poverty level in any calendar month, all benefits received after that month may be considered an overpayment. This is true even if your gross income falls below the 130% poverty level in a future month.

2. If your household’s certification period is longer than 6 months: At a six-month checkpoint into your certification period, you will receive a report form that you MUST return within ten days after you receive the form. If your household has any of the changes listed below, you MUST report them on the report form that is sent to you at the six-month checkpoint.

List of Changes you must report at the six-month checkpoint:

TBA CHANGE REPORTING for household in receipt of transitional benefits:

- Transitional food stamp benefits can continue for up to five months after your Temporary Assistance case closes.
- You are not required to report changes during the transition period. If you have changes that may increase your benefits you can contact your worker to file an early recertification application at any time during your transitional period to receive the increase. The increase cannot be done until a signed recertification application is filed, and the entire recertification process is completed.
- You must recertify near the end of your transitional period to see if you can continue to receive food stamp benefits after your transitional period ends. We will send you a notice reminding you of this recertification requirement. If you do not recertify, we will not send you any other notice and must close your food stamp case.

NYSNIP CHANGE REPORTING for participants in NYSNIP:

- You will receive a contact letter 24 months after you begin participation in NYSNIP that you must complete and return.
- You are not required to report changes during your certification period other than the 24-month contact letter. You may voluntarily report increases in your medical expenses, rent or utility costs, or decreases in your income.
