FOOD STAMP BENEFITS AND YOU!

Each year in New York, over a million people - just like YOU - help make ends meet, and improve their health and nutrition, by using Food Stamp Benefits. If you are eligible, you are entitled to receive Food Stamps - and you will not be taking them away from anyone. Food Stamps are here to help everyone who qualifies!

You may qualify for Food Stamps even if you work, receive Social Security, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and/or retirement benefits.

You may also be eligible even if you own a house and/or a car, have money in the bank, or live with others.

Once you qualify for Food Stamp Benefits, you will receive a plastic card that looks like a debit card and allows you to buy groceries at participating stores.

What Are the Income Guidelines?

The Food Stamp program uses income and certain verified expenses, such as shelter costs and medical expenses, in order to determine your eligibility and benefit amount.

Income Guidelines for Seniors 60 years of age or older:

Number in Your Household	Monthly Income*
1	$1,815
2	$2,452

*These guidelines are based on October 1, 2011 levels. Income levels change annually; this is just a guide.

You can still be eligible for Food Stamps even if you have money in your checking or savings accounts or own your home.

If your income is more than the amounts listed, but you have high costs for housing, medical expenses and/or utilities, you MAY still be eligible for Food Stamp Benefits. Your Social Services worker will determine this for you.
