There are about 2 million immigrants and refugees currently in the U.S. who have college degrees from their home countries but are unemployed or working far below their skill level.
UPWARDLY GLOBAL

We are the first and longest-serving organization focused on helping foreign-trained immigrants, refugees, and asylum seekers from any industry or country integrate into the American workforce.

We provide soft skill training and job coaching to help people find that first professional job in the U.S. You can call us UpGlo.
To eliminate employment barriers for skilled immigrants and refugees, and integrate this population into the professional U.S. workforce.
We envision a United States where skilled immigrants are seamlessly integrated into the professional workforce and the fabric of American life, and are recognized for the value they add to both.

How much does UpGlo job seeker training program cost?

Upwardly Global has supportive funders and sponsors that provide us with grants and donations. This allows us to offer our services and programs for free. In return, we expect a full commitment from you when you decide to participate in our program. We also encourage you to give back once you begin rebuilding your professional career.
How long does it take for job seekers to secure a job?

Upwardly Global is not a placement agency and we do not guarantee job placement. We offer trainings to equip skilled immigrants with skills and tools you need to rebuild your career in the U.S. We support job seekers’ job search efforts until they are placed. The training program is self-paced and the job search is self-driven.
FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do I need to have my academic credentials evaluated in order to join Upwardly Global’s training program?

UpGlo’s training program does not require job seekers to submit an official evaluation of their academic credentials (university degree) as long as the degree is available for review. In some cases however, when the submitted degree is in a foreign language that is not spoken by UpGlo staff or when it is unclear whether it is equivalent to a U.S. Bachelor’s degree or not, credentials evaluation may be requested for verification purposes.
